ALERT: Politician Power Grab

While California families struggle with soaring costs and the state sinks deeper into deficit, Governor Newsom and the Legislature are scheming to take redistricting power away from our independent Citizens Redistricting Commission.

Their plan?

A $200 million statewide special election to give politicians the power to redraw congressional districts for their own advantage...

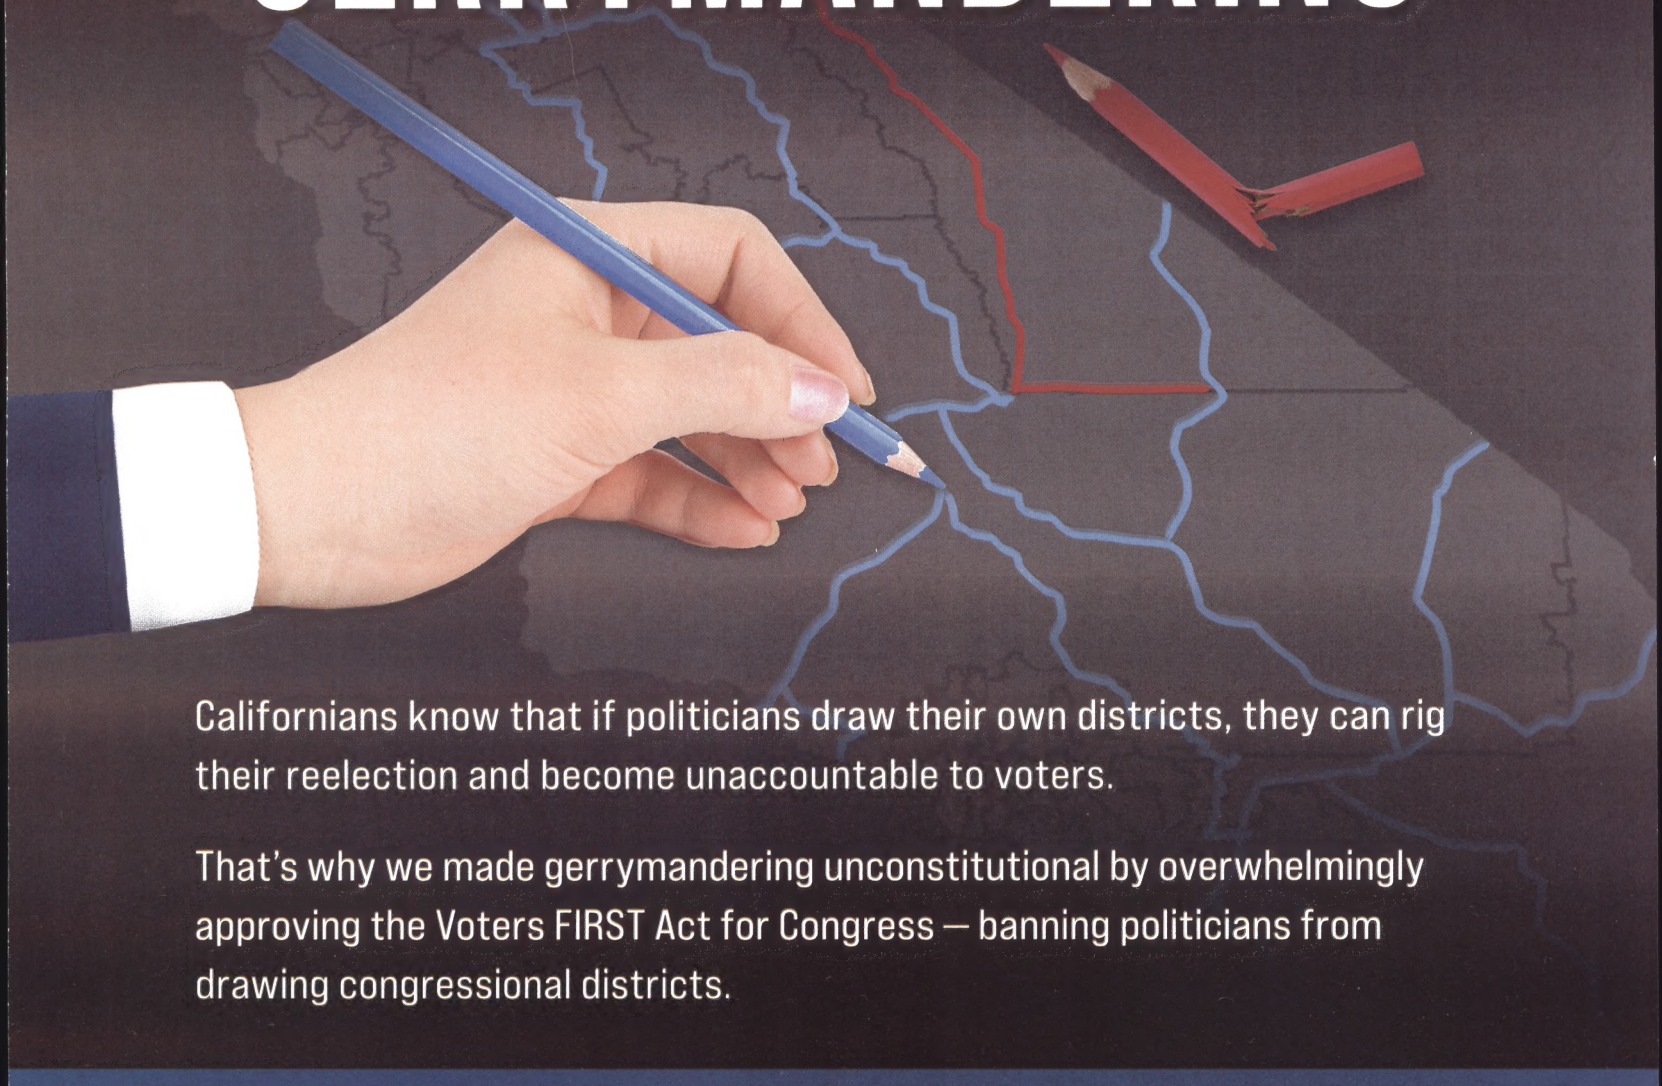
UNCONSTITUTIONAL GERRYMANDERING



Californians know that if politicians draw their own districts, they can rig their reelection and become unaccountable to voters.

That's why we made gerrymandering unconstitutional by overwhelmingly approving the Voters FIRST Act for Congress — banning politicians from drawing congressional districts.

Now, Newsom and Sacramento politicians want to eliminate the independent Citizens Redistricting Commission's authority — stripping voter protections that ban political maps designed to favor incumbents or political parties.
